

LODDISWELL SHOW 2015

Note 1 PRESERVES

Happy new year to all show participants.

This may seem early in the year to consider arrangements for the 2015 Loddiswell Show but there are some important changes to the rules and regulations, which you should be aware of when preparing your entries.

The 2014 show judge for preserves, Angela Hickman, recommended that Curds should be sealed with waxed disc and cellophane, chutneys (or any vinegar based preserves) with (vinegar proof) twist lids, jams, jellies and marmalades can have either.

It is my intention to drop some of the poorly supported categories and to introduce some others, which might be more topical or even more challenging. If you have any ideas on what could be added to the category lists then please contact me

Tele 01548 559104 or e-mail j.spooner999@btinternet.com

The next note will cover photography, which was one of the best supported classes in 2014.

Jim Spooner
Produce Sec
10th January 2015